Healthcare continues to be a lucrative target for hackers with weaponized ransomware, misconfigured cloud storage buckets, and increasingly sophisticated phishing emails. More than 93% of healthcare organizations have experienced a data breach over the past three years.¹

Healthcare cybersecurity breaches cost more than any other industry at $7.13 million.²

87% of healthcare IT security leaders say they don’t have the personnel to achieve a more effective security posture.³

Healthcare suffered 2 to 3 times more cyberattacks in 2019 than the average amount for other industries.⁴

More than 41 million patient records were breached in 2019, triple the number reported in 2018.⁵

Personal health information is 50 times more valuable on the black market than financial information.⁶

Phishing scams and other forms of email fraud are the most common point of information compromise in healthcare.⁷

91% of cyberattacks begin with spear-phishing emails, which are commonly used to infect healthcare providers with ransomware.⁸

Ransomware incidents accounted for more than 70% of all malware outbreaks in healthcare for the last year tracked.⁹

98% of IoT devices are unencrypted and unsecured, exposing confidential data on healthcare networks.¹⁰

Learn more at tpx.com/healthcare

Yesterday was too late, but today is better than tomorrow to improve your security posture. Talk to a TPx specialist to see how we can help.